

Consultant Scope Profile / Role Description

Project Manager (Remote HQ Project Management Consultant)

About the Job:

Veridicor seeks a Project Manager to support a stakeholder prosperity related project. The Project Manager is a remote consultant based outside the deployed field team and is responsible for overall coordination of contract execution, internal support alignment, and project tracking against contractual and operational requirements. The Project Manager ensures that the field team receives the legal, financial, logistical, and platform-related support necessary for successful delivery.

Actual engagement is contingent on contract signing; the anticipated start date will be around April / May 2026.

1. Duties

- Coordinate overall project implementation against contract scope, milestones, and internal deadlines.
- Serve as the central coordination point between the field team and Veridicor HQ support functions.
- Liaise with legal, finance, operations, logistics, and technical platform support units as required.
- Coordinate with V-Intelligence support personnel regarding platform-enabled data entry, analysis, and reporting functions.
- Maintain project trackers, reporting schedules, issue logs, and internal coordination records.
- Support escalation and resolution of operational bottlenecks affecting delivery.

2. Responsibilities

- Ensure the project remains aligned with contract obligations, timelines, and internal governance requirements.
- Maintain visibility over deliverables, dependencies, support needs, and internal approvals.
- Facilitate timely support to the deployed team without duplicating the Team Leader's field authority.
- Ensure structured communication between field, HQ, and technical support stakeholders.
- Support risk management, documentation discipline, and delivery accountability throughout the assignment.

3. Qualifications

- Strong experience in project coordination, program management, operations, or contract delivery.
- Experience supporting multi-disciplinary teams across remote and field settings.
- Strong organizational and reporting discipline.
- Ability to coordinate across legal, financial, logistical, and technical functions.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Experience with digital project tracking or platform-enabled delivery environments is preferred.

Important Notice: This position is being included in Veridicor's roster for anticipated project needs. Inclusion in the roster does not guarantee immediate engagement. Any actual hiring or contracting decision will depend on project award, client approval, budget availability, and final operational requirements.

Interested candidates are invited to submit their CV and motivation letter to hr@veridicor.com . Please ensure the title of the vacancy you are applying for is clearly stated in the subject line of your email.

About Veridicor: Veridicor supports complex projects through disciplined field research, stakeholder analysis, and structured delivery models designed to improve implementation reliability, stakeholder alignment, and decision quality. Veridicor is a U.S.-based firm led by former international development and finance practitioners with decades of experience navigating complex stakeholder environments and fragile operating contexts. Veridicor helps energy, mining, infrastructure, and corridor authorities reduce disruption, protect revenue, and improve capital efficiency by addressing stakeholder risks early and aligning local prosperity with long-term operational and social performance. Our work is most valuable when stakeholder issues are clearly material, but existing programs have not produced durable gains in community alignment or political capital. Where stakeholder outcomes are measurable and improving. Veridicor can help convert sustained prosperity into access to performance-linked capital for the projects themselves. Further details about the company can be found at: <https://veridicor.com>